7. The protection of the privacy and our websites

AWDP Solutions.ca sometimes collects personal information through its various websites. This clause contains additional information regarding the collection of such personal information.

Cookies - When an individual accesses to the AWDP Solutions.ca websites, we may use a device of the browser called a "cookie" to collect information as the type of Internet browser and the operating system that the visitor uses, the domain name of the websites from where the visitor comes from, the date and duration of the visit, the number of visits, average time spent on our websites, pages viewed and the number of cookies accumulated. A cookie is a small text file containing a unique identification number that identifies the visitor's browser (without necessarily identify the latter) to the intention of our computers each time our websites are visited. Unless a visitor specifically informs us (i.e., by enrolling in our services or sending us a message from the websites), we will not know the identity of the visitors. Besides the identified purposes described in our Privacy Protection Policy, we can use this information from our websites and share it with other organizations with whom we have a commercial relationship to measure the use of our websites and to improve the functionality and content. Visitors can reset their browser in order to be notified as soon as they receive a cookie or to refuse cookies. However, when a visitor refuses cookies, he/she may be unable to use some of the features available in our websites.

Online communications -- In order to receive a product, a service or training, visitors to our websites may voluntarily submit their personal information to us for purposes such as questions, requests for information, a subscription to a training, consultation or downloading a video, the participation in contests or surveys. If AWDP Solutions.ca has identified you as a registered user of an online service, we may combine and store personal information about your use of our websites and the online information you have provided with certain other online and offline that we may have been able to gather.

Communications by e-mail - Occasionally, there may be instances when we will send you by e-mail communications linked to marketing or of promotional nature containing information that can be useful to you, including information about the products and services of AWDP Solutions.ca and other third parties with whom we have a commercial relationship. We will include instructions on how to unsubscribe and inform us of your preferences if you decide that you do not want to receive marketing e-mails or of promotional nature in the future from AWDP Solutions.ca.

Furthermore, if you send us a message by e-mail, we may retain that message and your e-mail address, as well as any response we send you.

Opinion polls - The opinion polls on our websites are anonymous. We do not correlate between the votes expressed in these surveys and names or e-mail addresses, unless this is expressly indicated at the time of the collection.

Research - For your convenience, research functions are sometimes provided on our websites. We keep logs in which the terms sought are recorded in order to learn more about the kind of information our visitors are seeking and thus improve our services.

Hyperlinks – For your convenience, AWDP Solutions.ca websites sometimes include hyperlinks to websites managed by third parties. By activating these links, you will leave AWDP Solutions.ca's websites for those of third parties, which may be subject of practices and policies for the privacy protection different from those of AWDP Solutions.ca. AWDP Solutions.ca disclaims any responsibility for the use of these third-party websites.

Advertising to children - We believe that none of the websites of AWDP Solutions.ca does not address directly to children aged 13 years and less. Our ads are not intended knowingly children aged 12 and less, except as authorized by the Act.

Individuals under the age of 18 years - The individuals under the age of 18 should not provide or display personal information on our websites without the permission of their parents or guardian. In the framework of participation in a contest, we can ask for the name, address, phone number, e-mail address and the date of birth of an individual under the age of 18 years so that we can notify if he/she wins the contest. In this case, we will ask for the consent of a parent or guardian before collecting the information.

No information collected from users under the age of 18 years is used for any marketing or promotional purposes by AWDP Solutions.ca. Unless otherwise indicated at the time of the collection, we do not provide any personal information collected by the intermediary of a website of AWDP Solutions.ca on the part of individuals under the age of 18 years, regardless of the source, to any third-party for any reason whatsoever.

8. Modifications to the Privacy Protection Policy

AWDP Solutions.ca reserves the right to modify or supplement this Privacy Protection Policy at any time. If we make changes to this Privacy Protection Policy, we will post these changes on our websites and the amended policy will be available on request to the person responsible for the privacy protection of AWDP Solutions.ca. However, AWDP Solutions.ca will obtain the necessary consents required under the terms of laws on the protection of personal information applicable if it seeks to collect, use or disclose personal information about an individual for purposes other than those for which the consent was given, unless otherwise required or permitted by the Act.
